Books into Movies

By: Hailey Maynard

There are a lot of great books being made into movies. Wonder is a book written by: RJ Palacio that was made into a movie in November it's a really good book and movies. There's also a good book called Ready Player One written by: Ernest Cline that's really good. The final book is A Wrinkle In Time by: Madeleine L'Engle. They are all really good books you should read them and watch them, but remember to read the book then watch the movie. You have to read the books first because the books and the movies always have a few things different from each other, in a lot of opinions the books are better than the movies and the books are the original stories and you can imagine what the characters look like then watch the movie to find out how they made the characters and how you made them in your head. I think you should read all these books before you go and watch the new movies.

Book review

By Jake Lucido

Have you ever heard of Roald Dahl? He wrote Charlie and the Chocolate Factory which was published January 17, 1964, Once upon a time there was a little boy named Charlie with two grandmas and grandpas and all of them were very poor. They never had enough money.

They lived in a very small house on a hill. later in the story there were five golden tickets sent out. There was four other kids with him that won named Augustus Gloop, Veruca Salt, Mike Teavee and Violet Beauregard get to go to the factory. Each child could bring a guest. Who would you take if you were Charlie? Then Charlie goes in a bunch of cool rooms and some of the kids got lost in those rooms. Was Charlie the last one standing? Did he win? Read the book to find out. When you read it you will have fun.

vorite book is "Harry Potter and the Sorcerer's Stone". Second grader Jack Anderson said, "Star Wars" storybooks. Next we have second grader Adam Smith like "Rocket Raccoon and Groot". Last but not least we have Kyle Palmer and his favorite book "Dog Man Unleashed!" What is your favorite book? I hope you enjoy reading month.

Genres

By: Sean McCann

If you like books there is probably one type of genre that you are into, but if you don't like books I will teach you what a genre is...

Non fiction, fiction, science fiction, comedy, drama, adventure, mystery and mythology. Those are all of the main genres but not all of the genres, there are many, many, genres. A genre is a type of story that you read. Genres are important, the reason why it is important to learn all of the genres is because, once you have learned all of the different genres you will eventually learn what your favorite type of book is and what type of books you are into. I would most likely read an adventure book or a fiction book. If you learn all of the genres and the types of genres that you are into you will become a very experienced reader. Once again I will tell you that genres are very important and remember to read in March's reading month. C.S. Lewis is my favorite author, and my favorite book by him is, "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe". Charlotte's web is a book that just about everyone knows, and I am going to tell you the genre, the genre is... A fiction story, if you have read Charlotte's web and enjoyed it you probably like fiction books. Another Fiction book that is pretty well-known is the book, "Wonder", if you are in the middle of reading it or have already read it, and you liked it, again you probably are into Fiction books.
